Problem

The company needed virtual shared storage to achieve high availability (HA) and redundancy.

Solution

With StarWind VSAN, the company created an HA cluster improving IT infrastructure performance.

FinZey Finance ensures a troubleproof operation of its electronic services by building an HA IT infrastructure with StarWind VSAN

Problem

Before StarWind Virtual SAN (VSAN) deployment, the IT infrastructure of FinZey Finance consisted of HP servers with a VMware hypervisor on top. There was no SAN, so the company wanted to combine internal storage of the three hosts with virtual shared storage for high availability (HA) and failover. For some time FinZey Finance has used a trial version of StarWind VSAN and found it to be very efficient.

Solution

Thanks to StarWind VSAN, FinZey Finance created an HA cluster that impacted the overall IT infrastructure performance in the best way. With StarWind, there is no need to buy costly physical SAN devices as VSAN provided failover features at a much more attractive price. Now the IT infrastructure of FinZey Finance powered by StarWind VSAN with a ProActive Premium Support feature works excellent without limiting the company's business growth potential.

StarWind gave me a lot of options for HA and Failover which I couldn't have achieved with my existing infrastructure.
