Problem

The company needed to secure its servers and data with true redundancy and fault tolerance.

Solution

StarWind helped MSG Ltd. repurpose its existing servers to enjoy high uptime and be ready for any disasters without buying new hardware.

Problem

MSG Ltd. used an IT infrastructure that primarily consisted of Dell servers. Considering the company's profile, the amount of information that needed to be hosted and that which passed through its servers daily was astounding. MSG Ltd. was in the need of ensuring high levels of redundancy and fault tolerance for its systems as downtime and security compromises were unacceptable. To achieve that, the company approached StarWind.

Solution

MSG Ltd. opted for StarWind Virtual SAN to help it secure its desired goals. Thanks to "mirroring" of hard disks and flash between hypervisor servers, the company gained true fault tolerance and made sure no information would be lost in case of any crash. StarWind also facilitates high constant application uptime and solid data integrity, so all of the information the company dealt with was now safe from any corruption or other threats. Thanks to the software-defined storage (SDS) solution from StarWind, MSG Ltd. can enjoy all of the modern Enterprise-grade hyperconvergence benefits at an SMB price tag.

We no longer have to worry about losing information or terminating services. Everything works perfectly.
